PRESENTATION

The 3rd International Fire Safety of Facade (FSF 2019) is held in Paris, France from September 25 to 27th 2019 and promotes scientific and technical innovations in the field of fire safety for facade.

Organised by CSTB (Centre Scientifique et Technique du Bâtiment), the French Building Research Institute, FSF is a three-day event that fosters dialogue among scientists, academics and professionals from around the world related to the research and development in the field of facade fire safety.

In the attempt to contribute to risk mitigation to reduce consequences on human life and property, the objectives of the international symposium are the following:

- to present the latest state of the art in the knowledge of fire safety for facade,
- to gather experts of this domain to discuss research questions and practical application,
- to emphasize the importance of further development of research.

Since 2013, FSF takes place every 3 years in France and international. The second edition brought together around 200 engineers, researchers, industrialists and regulation experts working in the field of facade fire safety from 32 countries.

The 3rd edition will take place from 25 to 27 September 2019 in Paris. This edition will cover all of the following themes:

1. Facade materials and systems behaviour in fire
2. Fire testing and assessments methods
3. Numerical modelling and FSE of facade fires
4. Practical applications and case studies of facade fires
5. Regulation and standardization

As well as the presentation sessions in the plenary hall, poster presentations are scheduled CSTB also plans to organise working sessions on Wednesday afternoon, to encourage discussions and sharing ideas.

About CSTB

The Scientific and Technical Center for Building (CSTB) is a public body for innovation in construction. It focuses on five key activities: research and expertise, assessment, testing, certification, and dissemination of knowledge, all performed to address the challenges of the energy and digital transitions in the construction sector. Its expertise covers construction products, buildings, and their integration into neighborhoods and cities.

With over 900 employees and its subsidiaries and networks of national, European and international partners, the CSTB group offers its services to all parties involved in construction to improve the quality and safety of buildings.
